Overnight Accommodations

TPOC's primary mission is as a recreational camp on Lake Bloomington. They have cabin space available on Friday and Saturday evenings for $25 per person, per night. RV camping will likely be permissible. More private cabins for families or groups may be available for a slightly higher rate. There will be modern restroom facilities (including showers) nearby. Bunking will be dormitory style (sorry, no king-size beds). The facilities there are very picturesque.

Contact the office staff and give them the dates to secure lodging. Their phone number is 309-365-8021.

* Hawthorn Suites is our current favorite, with hot breakfasts to include eggs and sausage and much more. If you call ahead for reservations, let them know you are with coming for a GSL Defense Training class and they should give you the government rate (about $70/night for most weekends). If you have any problems, contact the General Manager Quentin and he'll help you.

Make sure you are getting a hotel on the WEST side of town, not the east side, to save you about 20 minutes driving time across town.

⚠ We would discourage staying at Days Inn because of negative feedback from students (plural) staying there in the past.
